

MBA 8740: Global Political Economy

International trade and production, global division of labor, environmental change, political economy governance, exchange rate implications, and consequences of globalization and production.

International relations and organizations governing countries' trade relations.

Credits: 1.5

Program: MBA (Business Administration)